Friends, family, fellow believers,

This week, we walk with Jesus on his journey to the cross. We remember his sacrifice, his love, and his incredible power. But we don't just remember it – we prepare to receive it. This year, we feel a calling, a gentle nudge from the Holy Spirit, to truly lean into the power of prayer. Our community and world are hurting. We see it in the weary faces around us, hear it in the unspoken pleas for peace, and feel it in our own hearts. But what if we, as a community of faith, could be a conduit for God's healing power?

That's why we're asking you to join us in a 24-hour prayer vigil, beginning on Maundy Thursday and carrying us through to Good Friday. For one full day, let us blanket our church, our community, our loved ones, our world, and even ourselves in the unwavering embrace of prayer.

Prayer isn't just wishful thinking. It's not a last resort when we've exhausted all other options. Prayer is powerful. It's a lifeline to the Almighty, a direct line to the One who can move mountains, heal broken hearts, and bring hope to even the darkest of situations. Imagine what could happen if we, united in faith, lifted our requests to the One who holds all things in His hands. Imagine the burdens that could be lifted, the hearts that could be softened, the lives that could be transformed. As we travel through Easter, we also look to the upcoming Healing Service. We expect to see God perform miracles in our midst.

Maybe you're skeptical. Maybe you've prayed before and felt unheard. Maybe you pray every day and still don't hear God's reply. But we believe that God honors our faith, our willingness to come to Him, even in our doubts and uncertainties. And when we pray, not with our own limited understanding, but with hearts aligned with His will, miracles can happen.

So, who will join us? Who is ready to witness the power of prayer unleashed in our community? Let us come together, not out of obligation, but out of a shared desire to see God move in mighty ways. Let us be the change, the light, the unwavering beacon of hope that this community needs.

Sign up on the sheet in the Narthex, choose your time, and let us prepare our hearts for what God has in store. We believe with all our hearts that when we seek Him together, with unwavering faith, He will answer our prayers in ways we could never imagine.
